Presbyterian Churches
of Venedocia, Ohio

From

Jan. 1, 1950 to Dec. 31, 1950

FOREWORD

The very nature of life makes a person pause long enough to realize that time is moving on. Another year has slipped by and a new one has placed us nearer the judgment and mercy of God. As Christians, we can be proud of the fact that we are the benefactors of a God who is faithful and sure. With that Divine assurance, we as church-going men and women, do rejoice in God's blessings and goodness toward us. In the past year and half you have been blessed with the leadership of the Reverend Chalmers, and have accomplished much. New members have been added, a good benevolence quota has been established, and all local expenses are paid in full. These achievements show evidences of co-operation between pastor and congregations.

We can take pride in what we have done. Nevertheless, we live in a broken and bewildered world, still staggering from the effects of two devastating wars and the impact of communism. We are struggling with national and international problems. Consequently, the Church at large with all its constituency must assert itself toward relieving life's tensions.

The pressure of the world tends to dim our vision of the great work to which our Lord calls us. Nevertheless, to meet the needs of humanity, we as local congregations must combine our efforts in order that the Church can marshal its forces more than ever before. As we face the present world situations, more will be required of our local churches. We can not work separately; only by combining our efforts, will the sacrifices of our fellow-Christians be saved.

God is holding a throbbing world in His hands. Therefore, the Church to which you and I belong, will, through the power of the Holy Spirit and our unselfish services, enable the world to regain its poise. Let us ask God's forgiveness for our failure to trust Him more in the past. Let us resolve to launch out anew this year, that the world may feel the impact of God's love for man, and that the name of Jesus Christ may be exalted above every other name.

ARTHUR M. HUGHES,

Moderator
