A Word from your Interim Pastor

Dear Members & Friends:

I don't need to belabor the obvious: 2010 was a year of significant transition for Salem Presbyterian Church... losing your pastor of 14 years and having to get used to an older guy who keeps getting "debts" and "trespasses" mixed up in the Lord's Prayer. In the now three months that I have been with you, I have been very impressed with you as a congregation. Salem Presbyterian Church is a vital congregation, especially the number of younger families who faithfully bring their kids to church every Sunday.

The Session has moved along quite speedily in getting Salem's self-study written, and once this is done, the information from it will be used to fill out a CIF (church information form). The CIF is what clergy who are interested in making a move initially read in finding out about a congregation. It is important that the CIF portrays a congregation accurately and winsomely.

I trust that this paperwork will be brought to a quick conclusion, that a PNC (pulpit nominating committee) can be formed, and the (much more fun) work of interviewing for a new pastor can begin. But for however long that takes, I am more than glad to continue to serve as your interim pastor.

Blessings on all of you, Pastor Don Leckrone
