

Annual Report

of

Salem and Zion

Presbyterian Churches

of

Venedocia, Ohio

From

April 1, 1946 to March 31, 1947

FOREWORD

The year covered by this report has been a troubled one in the history of the world. Economically, socially, politically, spiritually, it has been a year of turmoil. But it has also been a year when the Church of Christ has done its utmost to fulfil its God-given task of bringing peace and understanding and salvation to mankind. It is true that the Church has not always succeeded in her mission, but toward that end she works; and though advancement is often slow, there is still advancement.

We, in Salem and Zion Churches, are part of that great Church. Her task is ours. We have taken our part in the mission. We do not rest; but we do look back and take stock of what has been done in our particular churches.

This report is one to give us hope and courage. We have advanced, at least statistically and financially. We pray that our advance here is indicative of a spiritual advancement. We have taken our part in the world-wide mission through our giving to Benevolences and the Restoration Fund. We have kept burning, the light of faith in our own communities.

As we read this report we see names and figures. We find the names of the officers of the various church groups, and we find that financially all of our departments of the churches have done well. This report cannot show, however, the love and loyalty and cooperation shown by the officers and members. It does not show our stewardship of time and talent and faith, as well as our stewardship of money. Yet, this has been the case. And your pastor is grateful to those loyal workers whose cooperation has meant so much during this year.

The past is prologue; it is the basis for the future. So with gratitude to God for his care over us this year, let us look forward with hope and confidence. Above all, let us pray that we may do His will.

Sincerely,
Gerald R. Johnson
